

Our Builders Club members took a deep dive into community needs by conducting hands-on research and collaborating with experienced peers!

- ① Investigating Local Impact – Members engaged in breakout groups with upper-grade students who have volunteered with various organizations, learning firsthand about local causes and service opportunities.
- ② Mapping Community Needs – Using their research skills, members compiled information on local charities, identifying gaps in resources and opportunities to serve.

By combining research with mentorship, our members gained a deeper understanding of how they can make a real difference!
